

VERMONT NEWS

Rev. and Mrs. H. T. Barnard observed their golden wedding on Sept. 23 in the Congregational church at Bradford. Rev. and Mrs. Barnard and their grandson, Dr. Henry Safford of New York received the guests. A program was given under the direction of G. A. Jenkins and as a closing number the bride and groom of 50 years ago sang "Life's Dream is Over." The present pastor of the church presented them with a purse of gold. During his 33 years in the ministry Mr. Barnard has served churches at Jericho, West Rutland, Bradford, Orleans and Melndoes and since his retirement has made his home at Bradford. Their grandson, Dr. Safford is a graduate of St. Johnsberry Academy and Dartmouth college, and is now a physician in New York.

Willis Fouts, aged 37 years, of Frandstown, N. H., who had been working in a portable saw mill in Westminister West for two weeks was almost instantly killed Sept. 24 when he was drawn into a circular saw by the carriage caused by catching his foot on one of the dogs of the carriage.

Bishop Hopkins Hall, the Episcopal school for girls at Burlington was reopened last week with 20 students. The school now has an endowment fund of $100,000 and $4,000 have been expended on repairs on the building.

John Burton of White River Junction was seriously injured Sept. 24 when the car in which he was driving turned turtle near Putney. He was driving and was the only one of the party who was injured.

Fire at East Berkshire Sept. 23 destroyed the buildings of the Avon hotel, B. H. Combs' house and barn, the general store of W. S. Rublee and the buildings adjoining. The loss is $25,000 with insurance of $14,000.

A feature of the South Wallingford fair last week was an old-fashioned barbecue said to be the first in Vermont in 40 years. It required a barrel of crackers and 100 loaves of bread for the stuffing.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Remillard of St. Albans are parents of a son born Wednesday, weighing 20 pounds.

The ashes of the late Hon. Healey C. Akeley of Minneapolis were put into a niche in the memorial building which he gave to his native town of Stowe, Sept. 24th. A large number of townspeople and school children were present at the brief but impressive ceremony.

Dr. A. L. Cooper of Randolph died at his home there Sept. 24, at the age of 89. He was a man who had been well known in many parts of the state for the admirable work which he has done as a Methodist minister. He served 38 years as pastor, 12 years as presiding elder, five years as conference evangelist, making 55 years in all. During the period of pastor he served one year in St. Johnsberry, going from here to St. Albans. He is survived by three daughters, Miss Rosa, who has been with him since the death of his wife in 1903, Mrs. C. M. Ward of Iowa, and Mrs. C. L. Adams of Calumet, Mich.

The body of Frank K. Tolby of Lima, Ohio was found in the corn field of Charles K. Thompson of Woodstock September 22. Mr. Tolby had come from Lima on July 23 to bring a carload of goods to John W. Lutz of Barnard. He worked for him until August 25 when he left suddenly saying he was going to Canada. A clean cut hole was found in his coat but $25 was found near the body so it does not seem possible that this could have been a robbery. No cause for suicide is known and there is a great deal of mystery connected with the case.

The appointment of Prof. Samuel Franklin Emerson of the University of Vermont to be chairman of the Vermont state public library commission, was recently announced. He will take the place of President Guy Potter Benton.

Carl M. Knapp, an employee of the Barre and Montpelier Power and Traction Co., broke his nose last Thursday when he put his head out of a door of a south bound train near Granite street in Montpelier and was struck by a telephone pole. It seems queer that conductors who are always so anxious to warn passengers not to lean from doors and windows should have one of their number hurt in this way.

Dr. P. B. Gale, a prominent Plainfield man, is dead. He was born in Plainfield, May 8, 1853, and after graduating from the University of Vermont in 1880, practised there.

Deputy Sheriff C. P. Alexander has rearrested Walter Farnsworth, aged 28, who escaped from the Newfane jail Sept. 2, 1912. He found him at a farm in Wolcott where he had been working.

The members of Company K, 9th Vermont and Company B, 16th Vermont had a reunion at Grand Army Hall in Brattleboro September 23. The following officers were elected: Company K, president, D. W. Lewis of Boston; vice presidents, Thomas Hannon of Bennington, Charles Jackson of Vernon, M. L. Corbett of Barnardston, and M. L. Howard of Jamaica; secretary and treasurer, L. W. Bush of Brooklyn. Out of 50 names on the roll no deaths were reported for the year. Company B elected, President, A. P. Ranney of Westminster West; vice president, G. S. Stockwell of North Adams. An executive committee was also chosen.

Thirteen year old Helen Rooney of St. Albans was seriously injured Sept. 22 when she was hit in the eye by an arrow shot by Frank Robbins, Jr. It is feared the eye will have to be removed.

At the Baptist state convention held at Poultny last week the following officers were elected: President, Henry Bond of Brattleboro; vice president, Rev. F. W. Irvin of Poultny; clerk, Rev. F. S. Tolman of St. Johnsberry.

The Central Vermont railroad company recently presented the fire department of St. Albans with $200 as an appreciation for the admirable way in which they fought the fire at the time their paint shop burned a while ago.

Fred A. Barrell of White River Junction has recently bought a pair of milk goats. These doubtless are the first ones to be introduced into this part of the country, although keeping goats is fast becoming popular in other parts of the country. The present day price of goats' milk in America is 25 cents a quart.

Very remarkable surgical work was done on little four year old Dominic Talaoilili of Fowler several weeks ago, but its results have not been made public until recently.

KONDON'S Catarrhal JELLY

This fine, old-fashioned remedy has for 20 years been helping folks of all kinds of colds, from a simple cold to chronic catarrh. Build a little up the nose; you will feel like a new creature. It loosens the passages, has a soothing, antiseptic, healing effect, and is most effective. A 5¢ drug-glass or write for free sample.

Kondon Mfg. Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

The child had his hand nearly cut off at the wrist, only a little muscle and skin holding it to the arm. Dr. E. M. Pond of Rutland put the hand back in place, sewed the muscles, tendons and arteries together. The child has now returned home and has complete use of all his fingers.

At the annual meeting of the Vermont Library Association and Library Commission to be held in Woodstock, October 1st and 2nd, Miss Mary Antin, author of "The Promised Land" will be one of the speakers.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY IN VERMONT

Studies of the Geology of the State and of its Water Resources—Topographic Mapping in Progress

The work of the United States Geological Survey in Vermont is always a matter of general interest, some of the state's most important industries being closely related to its natural resources. Profitable studies of the granites and marbles of Vermont have been made and reports by the survey published which are now available on application to the director at Washington.

Studies of the stratigraphy and geologic structure in the western part of the state will be made this season by Geologist Arthur Keith. Under his direction the areal geology of the Hoosic and Bennington quadrangles is now being described and mapped in detail for geologic and a reconnaissance examination of the Wheelington and Londonderry quadrangles is being made by T. Nelson Dale.

In cooperation with the governor of Vermont, the survey is making a topographic map of the area called the Milton quadrangle. In Chittenden county. This quadrangle has an approximate area of 213 square miles, its length from north to south being about 17 1/2 miles and its width from east to west about 13 1/2 miles. This work is being done by Topographer Charles E. Cooke and will include the detailed surveys necessary to prepare a map which will show all rivers, towns, roads, and railroads, as well as the surface relief of the country by means of 20-foot contour lines. The completed map will be engraved on a scale of one mile to one inch and will probably be ready for distribution in about two years after the completion of the field work.

The water resources branch of the geological survey, in cooperation with the state, is making a study of the flow of streams in Vermont. For this purpose 12 gaging stations are now being maintained in the state at the following points: Passumpsic river at St. Johnsberry; White River at Sharon; Clyde River at West Derby; Dog River at Northfield; East Creek at Rutland; Lake Champlain at Burlington; Lamolille river at Johnson and at Hardwick; Missisquoi river at Richford; Worcester Branch at Montpelier and above Stevens Branch. At these gaging stations the height or stage of the river is determined each day by local observers, and measurements of the discharge of the streams are made by engineers of the survey. From these data the quantity of water flowing past the stations is determined. The hydrometric data collected are of value in Vermont chiefly in the design, construction, and maintenance of power plants and in the study of municipal water supplies. The investigations of surface water by the geological survey in Vermont are carried on under the direction of C. C. Covert, district engineer, by G. S. DeGolyer, and G. H. Canfield. The district office is in the federal building, Albany, N. Y.

ACADEMY NOTES

Faculty Entertained—Miss McLam Resigns on Account of Ill Health

The faculty spent a very pleasant evening with the trustees of the Academy and other friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Brooks, Friday. Piano selections by Miss Maude Brown were enjoyed.

Miss Grace McLam resigns her position as teacher of German and History on account of illness at her home. While here Miss McLam has made many friends among the students and faculty and her work has been of the highest order. She will be missed by all with whom she has been associated. Miss Helen L. Smiley of Winchester, Mass., who has been engaged to continue her work, is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College in the class of 1911, and was in college with Mrs. Seth B. Carlin, now of St. Johnsberry, and also with Miss Mary Ely. Her teaching experience has been in Littleton, Mass. She was cordially welcomed by the faculty at Miss Doran's rooms Monday afternoon.

Principal Benedict was in Boston on school business Saturday.

County Agricultural Agent Stimson gave a very helpful talk to the students at chapel Wednesday morning. Mr. Stimson is the coach for the foot ball team and is giving splendid satisfaction. The team promises to be an exceedingly strong one; thanks to him.

The faculty enjoyed a corn roast near the golf links Wednesday afternoon.

The Athenian Society held a very enjoyable social in the chapel Saturday evening. Sargent's orchestra furnished music and punch was served by Mabel Flint and Doris Cowles. The social committee was Misses Alice Nichols, Helen Woods and Florence Winget, and the chaperones were Miss Josephine M. Hardy and Frank L. Cain.

Miss Helen Boynton is at work on the orchestra for the coming year and regular practice will begin soon. Two students registered Monday morning, Miss Thora McClary of Syracuse, N. Y., and Miss Ruth Irene Miner of North Pomfret.

CONFIDENCE IN SAVINGS BANKS

Everybody knows that the most valuable asset which a Savings Bank has is public confidence in its safety and soundness.

Without it, its growth is as certainly stunted as is a field of grass on worn out soil, without fertilizer. Confidence is the fertilizer which promotes the growth of any Savings Bank just as much as phosphates promote plant growth.

Attention is called to the following statement showing the growth of deposits in the Lamolille County Savings Bank and Trust Company of Hyde Park, Vermont:—

They were on
Jan. 1, 1890, $ 89,973.14
Jan. 1, 1896, 387,538.50
Jan. 1, 1902, 614,326.43
Jan. 1, 1908, 1,065,542.57
July 1, 1913, 2,523,922.73

Note the deposits of 1902 have been multiplied by four, while the deposits July 1, 1913, are about two and one-half times what they were January 1, 1908.

The growth during the year ending June 30, 1913, was $298,348.36, or nearly one thousand dollars for each working day in the year. To state it exactly, the deposits exceeded the withdrawals for each day in the year—not counting Sundays and holidays—by an average of $971.81 per day.

On the 30th day of June, 1913, the deposits passed the two and one-half million dollar mark.

Can there be any better evidence than this of the practically unlimited public confidence in the sound judgment and cautious conservatism of the men who govern, direct and manage the affairs of the Hyde Park Savings Bank?

This Bank pays four per cent interest, compounded twice each year, and pays all taxes.

A statement of the assets and liabilities of this Bank will be mailed to anyone on request of the President, Carroll S. Page, or the Treasurer, Frank M. Culver, Hyde Park, Vermont.

Charles Chayer went Monday to Lewiston, Me., to enter Bates college.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Chandler went Tuesday to Worcester to attend the funeral of a sister-in-law.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church will hold its annual dollar social at the vestry Wednesday evening, Oct. 1. A literary program will be given and light refreshments served.

How much would this issue of this newspaper be worth to you if it should contain an "ad" through which you could secure a better position?
